

World Geography: Connecting and Reflecting

Using your "World Geography" portfolio, reflect on the many different environments in which people live on Earth, and describe how this understanding has changed your view of the world and its peoples.